

TRAVELLING GREEN DURING YOUR DUBLIN VISIT

Our Mission To Be Green

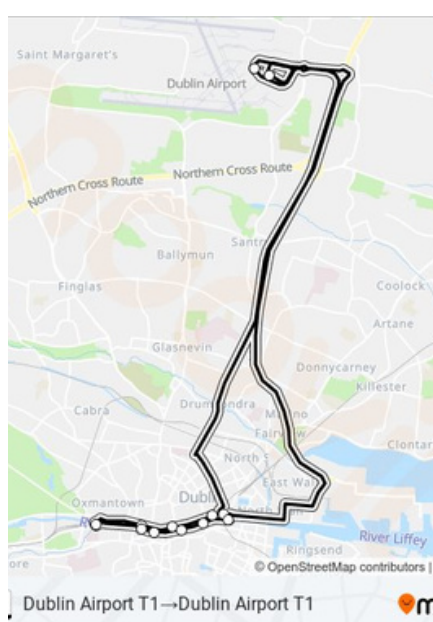

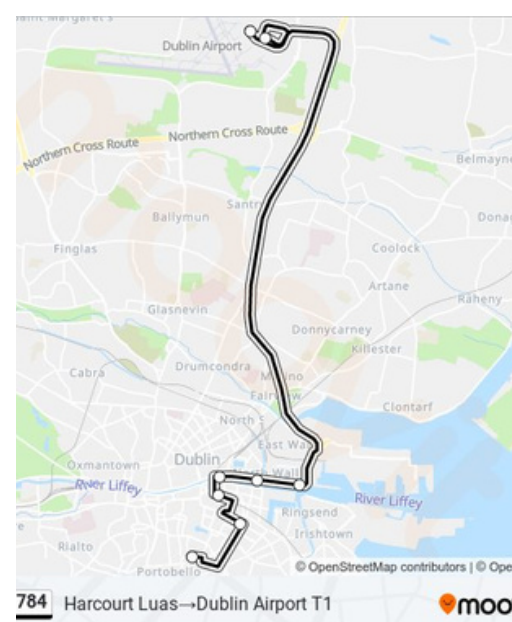

At The Spencer Hotel we are committed to supporting and encouraging a sustainable approach to travel. Our goal is to pass on this awareness to every individual who passes through our doors. To achieve this, we are committed to encouraging all of our guests to consider eco friendly and sustainable travel options when arriving and commuting around Dublin and Ireland. As part of this, we have developed this sustainable travel guide we believe will assist all visitors in navigating Dublin City. Should you have any feedback or questions please do not hesitate to reach out to our team for further assistance.

YOUR ARRIVAL

Travel Guide to the City

-Dublin Airport Toward City Centre Dublin Express Coach

- When arriving to Dublin Airport passengers will enter through one of 2 terminals, Terminal 1 or Terminal 2. The arriving terminal will depend on departing country or airline. Dublin Airport has a comprehensive bus network running 15 bus stops for pickups into Dublin City Centre and the Suburban Dublin area. Bus stops for pickups are located outside of both terminals. Operating buses are Dublin Express, Air Coach, DublinBus and TFI.
- Dublin Express Service routes to city centre are: 782 servicing stops between Georges Quay and Custom House Quay turning back to Dublin Airport at Heuston Train Station. Heuston Train Station allows for transfers for rail routes servicing Ireland, routes included but not limited to are Galway City, Limerick City & Belfast. Bus transfers for county travel are available at this point also along with Red Line Luas Tram Services.
- Route 784 from Dublin Airport servicing stops between Georges Quay to Hardcourt Street via Trinity College. Transfers for Green line Luas Tram Services can be taken here for routes continuing out to greater Dublin Suburban areas.
- 782 & 784 Bus services are best direct options for visitors to The Spencer Hotel and stopping at stop number 7397 (North Wall Quay) located just outside the hotel. Buses run at regular 30-minute intervals (off peak). Tickets for bus services can

DEPARTURE

Departure - From City Centre to Dublin Airport

When needing to sadly depart from a special trip away, the hotel is perfectly situated for airport transfers with Dublin Express. With the pickup stop for airport returns less than 100 meters from The Spencer Hotel front door, visitors need not worry about carrying luggage through busy metropolitan crowds whilst attempting to navigate unfamiliar streets. The North Wall Quay bus stop 7397, located outside of the AIG building is the final stop for pickups on route to Dublin Airport and less than 30 minutes of travel time. This method offers a low cost, delay free, eco-friendly and sustainable travel option for all visitors. Additionally bus and coach services into Dublin Airport drop-off zones take priority and is rarely delayed by traffic congestion around the airport access routes, reducing the potential for delays to passengers arriving.

Why choose public transport ahead of private?

Studies have shown that taking public transport as a primary method has significant effects for our own health as well as the environment. Bus travel is a more environmentally friendly option compared to individual car travel. Buses have a higher passenger capacity, meaning they can transport a larger number of people using less fuel per person. This helps reduce carbon emissions and contributes to the preservation of the environment.

Public transport is good for our health. Studies have show by taking public transport it can have a positive effect on our own health and wellbeing by limiting stress that can be associated with driving, encourages activity by walking and reduces emissions output which leads to less air pollution we breath in.

NAVIGATE YOUR WAY

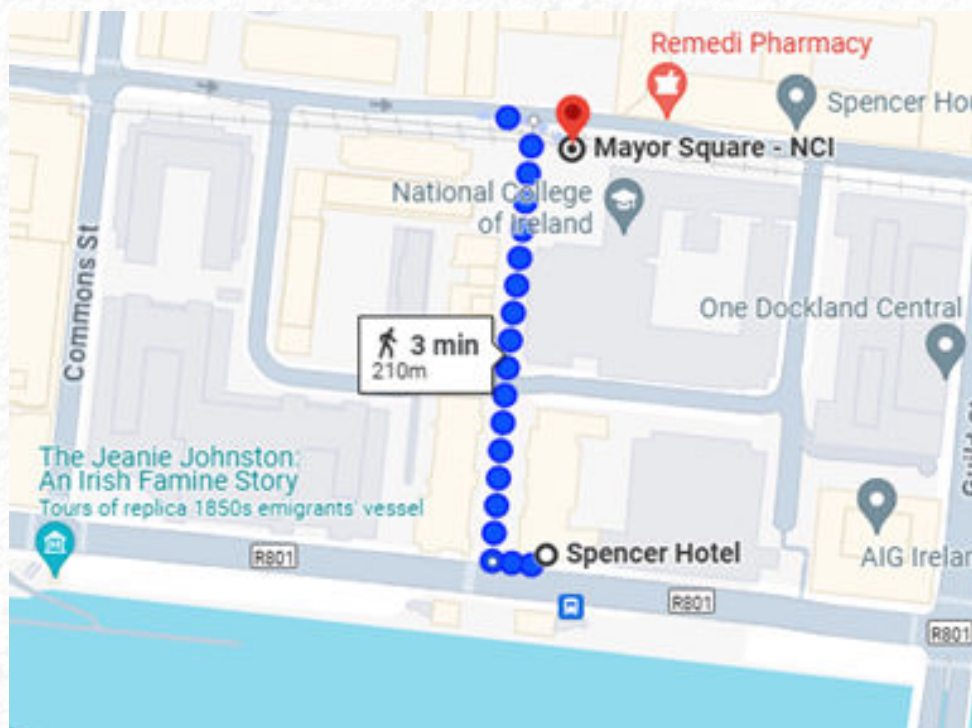

At The Spencer Hotel, we are fortunate to have transport infrastructure at our doorstep. With many sustainable options to choose from, our team is committed to assist all visitors and guests navigate their way around the city through affordable sustainable methods. Guest are encouraged to ask our front desk team who are always happy to assist in planning your trip to Dublin.

The Luas Tram Service

The Luas electronic tram service (Red Line) is the most efficient way to access Dublin City sights. Located to the rear of the hotel within a short 3-minute walk to the "Mayor Square" platform. The tram will take commuters directly into the heart of the city centre and the connection for trains & buses to the greater Dublin area and Irish countryside. The trams run every 5-10 minutes during peak travel hours and 10-20 minutes off peak.

Tram tickets can be purchased at the platform. Multiple ticket options are available 1 way, Return, 1 week, 1 day flexi (all day use) Tickets can be purchased using cash or a card.

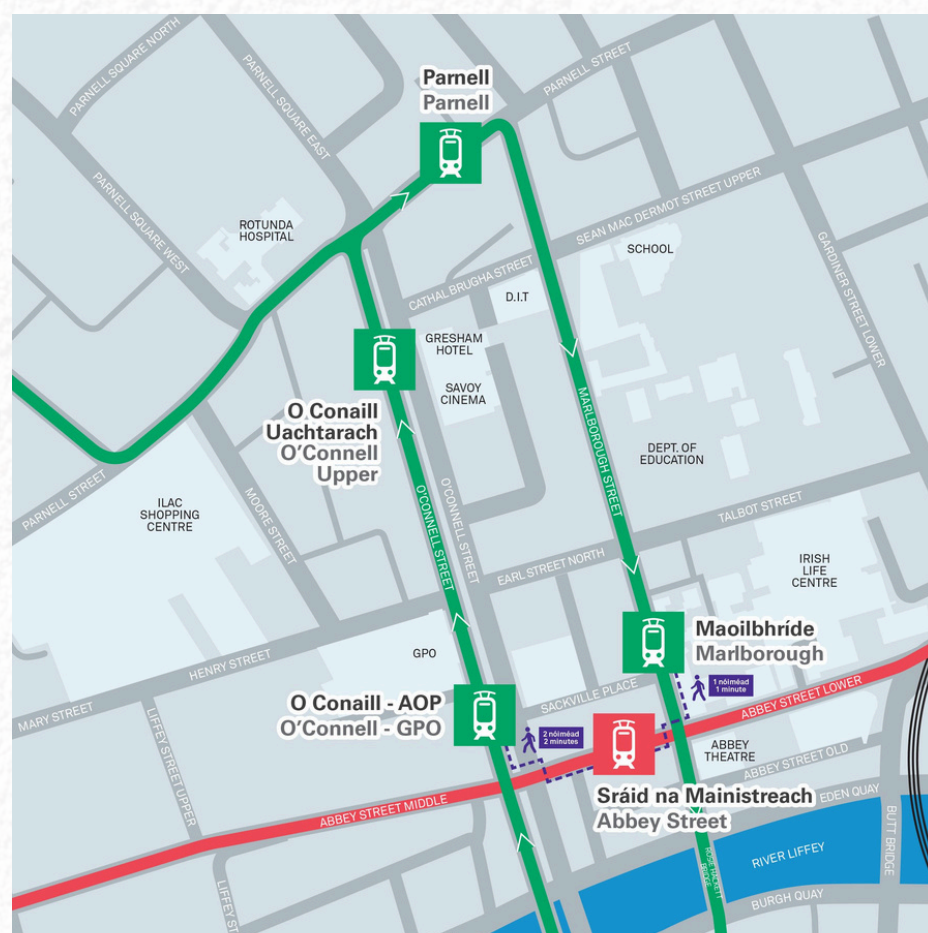

Transfers

Tram transfers to destinations not serviced on the red line are at Abbey street station, commuters can cross over to green line services.

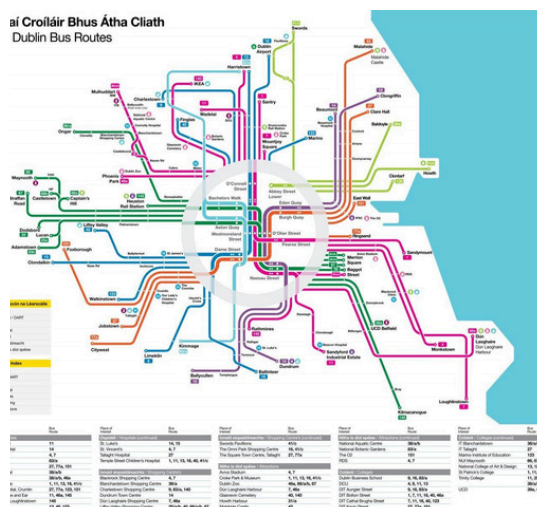

Transfers for dart services to coastal locations such as Bray and Howth are at Connolly Train Station via Busaras Luas stop.

Transfers for Train services for departures outside of Dublin are at Connolly via Busaras and Heuston (Station depending on location intended to travel)

Further information on tram services can be found at www.luas.ie and for train & DART services at www.irishrail.ie

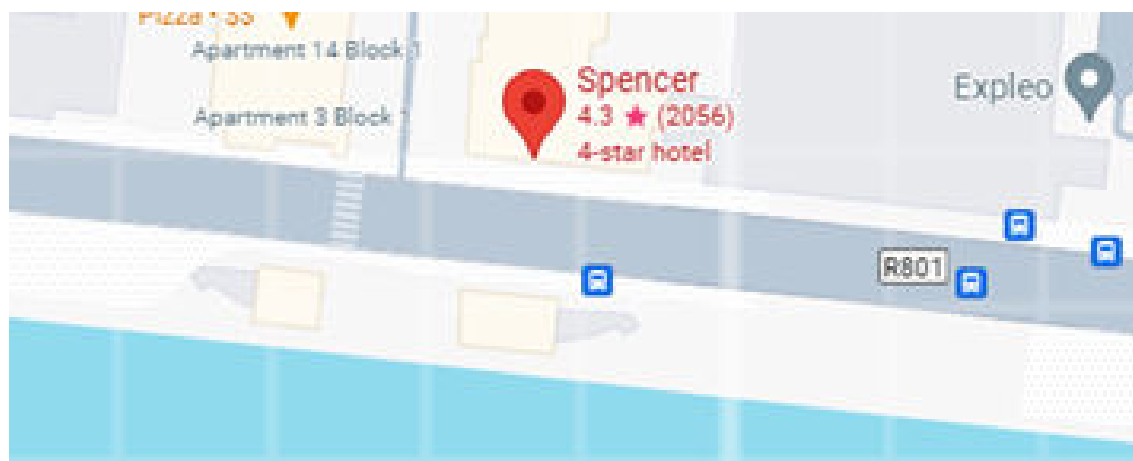

NAVIGATE YOUR WAY

Bus Network

The use of the Luas tram service may not be suitable for some tourist destinations in Dublin City Center or the greater Dublin area. There are multiple bus stops located in the immediate vicinity of the hotel servicing many central areas in the city, northern coastal areas of Dublin County and intercounty buses. The local stops are at the doorstep of the hotel allowing for easy travel for visitors for airport transfers, express peak hour transport and standard service buses. These services are cost effective, ecofriendly and have priority as they travel through bus corridors and specially designed streets assigned to bus only restrictions thus avoiding congestion delays. Routes are serviced by several providers such as DublinBus (blue & yellow), TFI (green & yellow), Swords Express (White) and Dublin Express (Airport). Our front office team are on hand to assist with the best suggested bus routes for destinations outside of the tram service. Please note a short tram trip may be required to link up to some bus routes.

THE TUK TUK

As the docklands events scene continues to thrive year on year with concerts, comedy shows and a mix of other events the popularity of the Tuk Tuk grows.

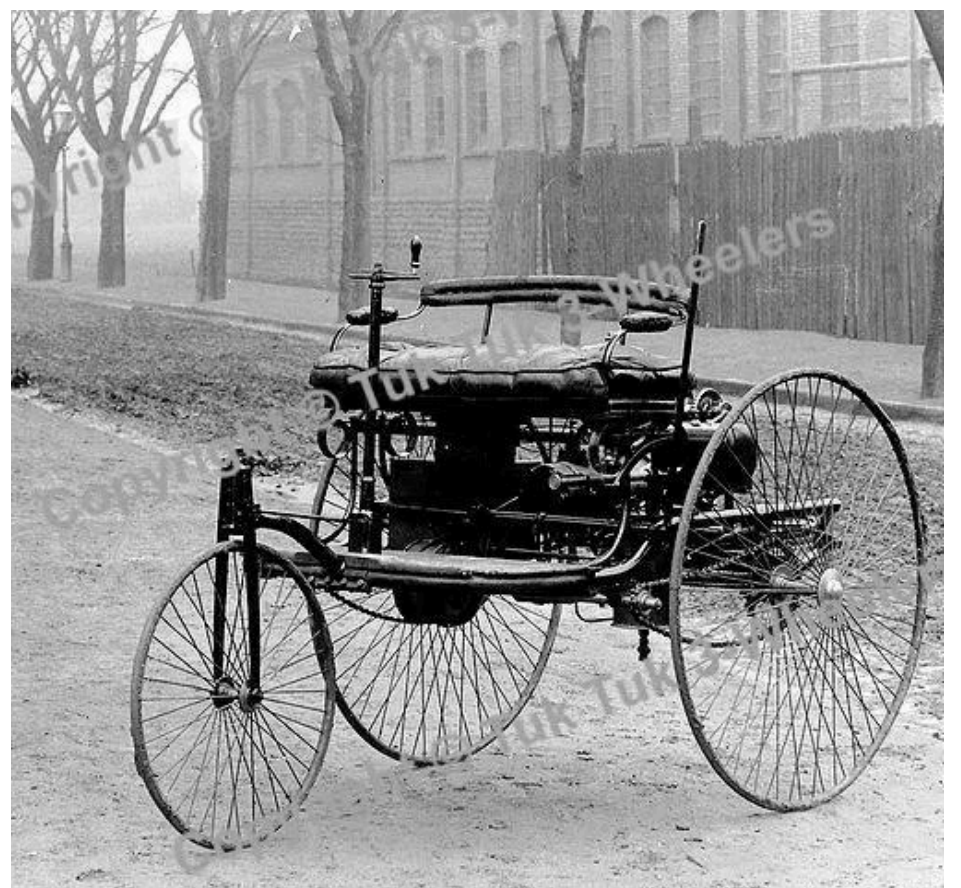

Drivers gather along north wall quay to offer event goers a trip to the hosting event venues at a reasonable cost. Tuk Tuk's offer a unique sort of fun as they generally are only out during specific periods or events.

Powered by a mix of pedal and battery the Tuk Tuk's produce 0 emissions when moving. Although they are not a common day to day sustainable travel option, one thing is for sure when they are available, they are great "craic". Just ask Belinda our local Tuk Tuk driver familiar to The Spencer Hotel team

Some Background

While many offer compelling claims, the origins of the first tuk-tuk remains disputed. In 1886 a group of Germans placed a patent for a three-wheeled vehicle closely resembling the modern-day tuk-tuk minus the engine, while some claim the Italians created the first tuk-tuk in 1947 with the Piaggio Ape.

SUSTAINABLE TRAVEL COMMITMENT

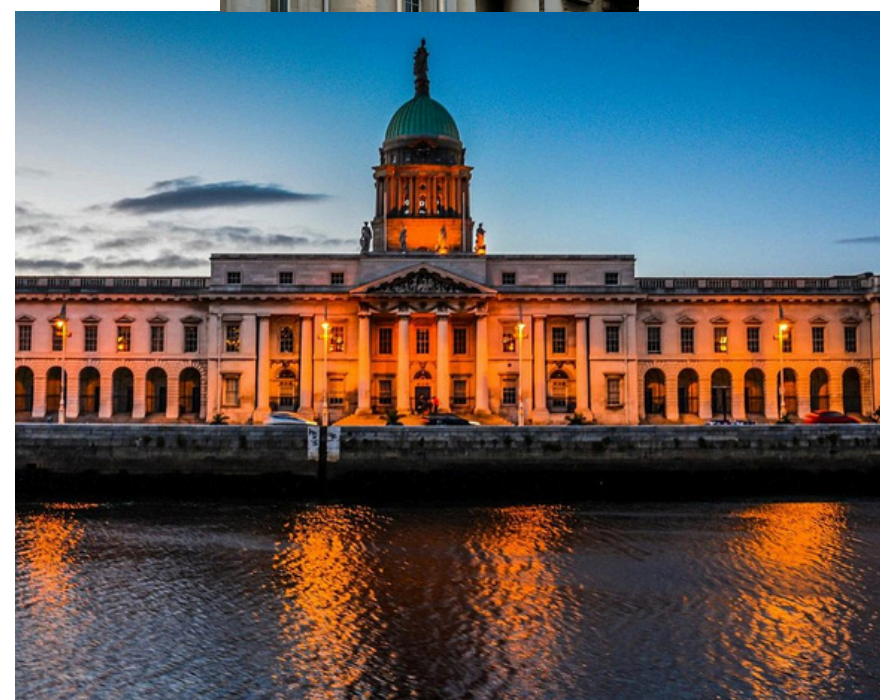

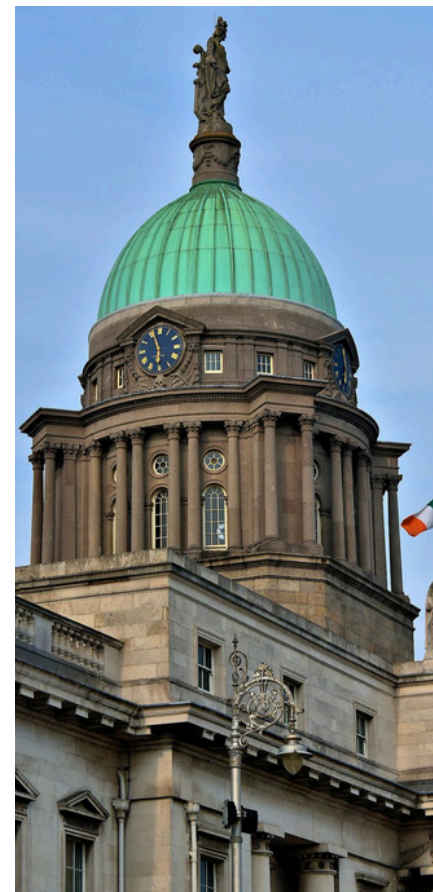

WALKING

The Spencer hotel is located just a short distance from the hustle and bustle of Dublin City Centre. With several local attractions such as Epic Museum and The Jeanie Johnston telling the story of Ireland's famine history nearby.

Only a 20-minute walk to the Famous Temple bar district of Dublin providing traditional Irish entertainment as well as cuisine and of course plenty of Guinness.

Destinations such as this are at the fingertips of visitors. By walking to these destinations you will enhance your experience of Dublin, strolling down the River Liffey will show an appreciation of historical buildings such as custom house as well as taking in the views and hospitality that Dublin has to offer.

With multiple walking routes available to take at your own leisure you are guaranteed to pass sights of national heritage, cuisine and history.

Alternative

We understand that at times, public transport may not be a suitable option for various reasons. Should you wish to take another transport option such as a taxi our front office team will be able to assist with your request.

In our commitment to be more environmentally friendly, when booking taxis our front office team will select the eco-friendly option for taxi on the Freenow app. E vehicles will be selected as a standard. The request for this vehicle type will be offered out to the nearest taxi driver, should a taxi not be available the booking app will then go to the next best available option.

All payment options will be made between the passenger and the Driver.
